Happy Birthday to the Purdue Women's Club! The celebration continues...

Everyone is invited! The Purdue Women's Club will continue their 100th birthday celebration at the Fall Luncheon on September 15th focusing on our interest groups. I hope to see you there.

Gail Fusaro
PWC President
2022-2023

The theme this year is "Celebrating 100 Years of Interest Groups" and although, technically, the actual interest groups began a few years later these groups have always been the "heart and soul" of the PWC. I have also heard them described as the "backbone" or "life-blood" of the Purdue Women's Club.

Some interest groups have come and gone, mirroring the times and interests of our members, others have been around for many, many years. New groups are always being encouraged to form. We also are re-forming some groups that dissolved due to Covid. I encourage you to get involved and try a new interest group. The Interest Fair will begin at 11:00 AM. You do not have to attend the luncheon to attend the Interest Fair, and as always you are welcome to bring a friend. Come see what the Purdue Women's Club can offer you!

If you are interested in being a hostess at the Interest Fair, please contact Joanne Small at emailsecretary@purduewomensclub.org. The hostesses will work a 20 minute shift from 10:45 to 11:45 to welcome the ladies at the door and answer basic questions about the Interest Fair. We would like five hostesses for every 20 minute shift.

Luncheon reservations are due September 1st. The luncheon will begin at 12:00 noon and be followed by a presentation from Mr. John Collier. He will discuss his 36 years as a volunteer at the Civic Theatre in a presentation called, "Civic Theatre - A Long-time Volunteer's View from Backstage, Onstage, and Offstage."

The birthday committee has been busily working behind the scenes to make this second birthday party another memorable event. The interest groups are the focus and to that end each interest group has been asked to make one centerpiece reflecting their group. There should be some very creative and imaginative centerpieces. Many interest groups are also making or collecting 100 things or lists of 100 things, projects, recipes, or books to display (or in some cases to give away) at their tables (in keeping with our 100th birthday theme) during the Interest Fair. I can't wait to see what all the various groups come up with. Be prepared to be amazed at what our talented ladies can do. See you on September 15th!

Wishing you a wonderful rest of the summer,
Gail Fusaro
PWC President 2022-2023

SPAN Plan

PWC Supports Purdue Scholarships...how we are making a difference!

Purdue Women's Club supports the Purdue Adult Student Support Program, better known as SPAN Plan. This is PWC's primary philanthropy, fostering the belief that learning should be a lifelong endeavor. The SPAN Plan offers adult students two different scholarship opportunities: the Parent Support Scholarship which helps cover childcare for students with children, and a general scholarship fund which helps with academic needs. Eligible recipients receive scholarships in varying amounts, up to a maximum of $2500 per year, providing they remain academically eligible.

Members have an opportunity to support the program through membership renewals, the spring and fall luncheons, and by direct donation. Checks can be mailed to the PWC mailing address at any time throughout the year. Some members even choose to do automatic monthly donations. You have the option of directing your donation to the SPAN Plan Academic Scholarship or the Parent Support Fund by writing a check made out to "Purdue Foundation for Life" with "PWC-SPAN Plan Parent Support Fund or PWC Academic Scholarship" on the memo line and mailing it to:

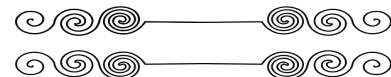

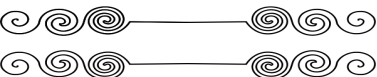

The Purdue Women's Club, INC.
P.O. Box 2073
West Lafayette, IN 47996-2073

In 2021 to 2022, the club donated $2500. Individual donations added an additional $5,440.

I am excited to learn about a fundraiser that is being planned for the 2023 Spring Luncheon - the "New to You Bag!" Members will be asked to bring a used handbag that you are no longer using to the luncheon. A silent auction will be held with proceeds being donated to SPAN Plan. A win-win for all!

We hope you will stop by the SPAN Plan table at the Fall Luncheon to learn more about this worthwhile program!

100th Anniversary Planning Committee

This fall marks the final months of commemorating PWC's 100th Anniversary. As a club, we celebrated our 100 years in grand style at the Spring Luncheon, which coincidentally was held on the anniversary of the actual founding date, April 7th.

Our group celebration will conclude at the upcoming Fall Luncheon on September 15th with a focus on the Interest Groups. Initially called "Sections" in the first decade, the Interest Groups have been the heart and soul of PWC, providing "opportunities for educational, cultural, and recreational enrichment", as envisioned by Dean Mary L. Matthews, PWC President 1930-31. With around 30 groups today, this mission lives on, providing a way to share common interests and to develop friendships too.

We hope you will join us at the Fall Luncheon to celebrate the Interest Groups and to learn something about the background of many of these groups at the Interest Fair. It's a wonderful chance to open the door for new opportunities to expand your educational, cultural, and recreational enrichment, just as our early members envisioned 100 years ago.

Barb Bowman
Chair, PWC 100th Anniversary Planning Committee

In Need of Hostesses for the Fall Luncheon/Interest Fair

On September 15th, we will be celebrating our 100th anniversary at the Fall Luncheon and Interest Fair. We are looking for volunteers to act as hostesses for 20 minutes each from 10:45-11:45 that morning. It would be nice to have 5 women per 20 minute slot. You will be greeting guests as they arrive and answering any questions they might have.

If you are interested in helping out in that capacity, please let me know. You can email me at jlps61@gmail.com or call 630-777-2374.

Thank you in advance!

Newcomers Events

*Submitted by Corby Springer
VP of Newcomers*

Newcomers have been important to PWC since the beginning. In May of 1928, the Board established a “Newcomers Division”. Corby Springer and her team are doing a wonderful job carrying out this tradition.

The Newcomers enjoyed a great trip to Delphi on June 16th for an Erie Canal Boat Ride Tour. Our group took a 40 min. tour. Our guide shared history about the 1850's canal. Some of the Newcomers toured the Interpretive Museum while others toured the Pioneer Village. Some people enjoyed a sack lunch in the breezy shade at Speece Shelter and others headed to an air-conditioned spot!

The Wabash and Erie Canal was a shipping canal in the 1850's that linked the Great Lakes to the Ohio River via an artificial waterway. The canal provided traders with access from the Great Lakes all the way to the Gulf of Mexico. Over 460 miles long, it was the longest canal ever built in North America.

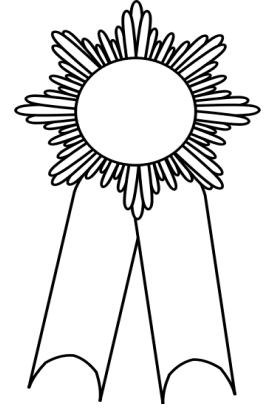

Sutter Lily Farm

Another Newcomer success! There were 18 Newcomers that traveled to Linda Sutter's Lily Farm. It was a warm day, but a light breeze favored us. Linda discussed the history of the house and farm, along with the lily gardens. The lilies were splendid, displaying a variety of colors! We learned details about the many varieties, how to choose a good lily when purchasing, and how to care for them. The gardeners had great questions which prompted some great discussion. After the tour, part of the group headed to the Walt's Ninth Street Pub for lunch.

We appreciated Linda's gracious hospitality!

Newest Club Wide
Activity

PWC Volunteers!

Submitted by Kathy Matter

Over the years, especially when you're talking about 100 years, many things can go out of fashion but in Purdue Women's Club service to others has never gone out of fashion.

Until the establishment of the club-wide group PWC Volunteers! in 2017, public service was carried out, for the most part, by the various individual interest groups.

The earliest evidence of "service" in our archives happened in the 1930s when members were encouraged to sign up to serve as hostesses at PWC events. The entire reason for the group was to be of service at club events.

Back in 1941 members of Home Economics interest group made articles of clothing for the Red Cross. The PWC treasury supplied seed money, around $40 that particular year to help purchase materials. Needlecraft groups in 1942-43 spent one day a month on Red Cross Sewing, completing two quilts and a whopping 663 garments.

During World War II, Child Study Groups conducted a highly anticipated clothing exchange each year until the end of the war. In 1946 they also organized a clothing collection for America's allies.

Skip to 1984-85 for another great example. That year PWC president Virginia Jacko made service part of her theme for the year using this motto: Celebrating Sixty-three Years of Service to the Community.

Various projects have been tackled in recent years. In 2014 the 20/30 Something Interest Group organized meals for overnight residents at Lafayette Transitional Housing. Lisa Hoverman challenged the group to make and serve a meal a month.

Eileen Fitzpatrick remembers the Genealogy Interest Group going to cemeteries in search of specific graves to assist the Tippecanoe County Historical Association and the statewide "Find A Grave" project. After the death of PWC president Karen Michler, members of Garden Gals pitched in to keep her yard and garden beds looking the way she would have wanted them to throughout the fall. Another club president, Patti Jischke organized members to read to children at the Purdue Day Care.

Since 2017, when Kathy Matter proposed forming a permanent service group, PWC members have been involved in a truly wide number of activities from "de" decorating the Haan Mansion Museum after the holidays to baking cupcakes to reward runners participating in the annual Cupcake Run/Walk that benefits the Public Schools Foundation of Tippecanoe County. They've helped decorate for Columbian Park's "Boo at the Zoo," assisted the Lions club with vision screenings in local schools and filled many a shift at Food Finders Food Bank.

Two years ago, Anne Marie Markun took over leadership of this active group. If you would like to get on the list to find out about volunteer opportunities, contact her at annemariemarkun5@gmail.com. Once you are on the list you will find out all the activities in a timely manner that Anne-Marie has available to participate in.

Bowling - 86 Years Strong

Current Chair: Judy Harshman
douglasslyon@comcast.net

The earliest club acknowledgement is that it was a study group as part of the PE section. There has been a group going ever since. Initially the group may have started in the Purdue Memorial Union, however, as the Interest Group grew they needed more space and Market Square Lanes is where they met in the 60's.

Judy Harshman is now the Chair of the Bowling Group which meets every Wednesday at Market Square Lanes at 1 PM, except during Purdue vacation in December and January. The season begins on the last Wed. of Aug., and concludes in April. They play 3 to a team in a non-sanctioned league. They look on it as a great way to get to know other PWC members. They welcome new bowlers and do also look for substitutes.

Fun Fact: Bowling moved out of the Union during WW II due to a shortage of pin boys.

Golf- 74 Years Swinging

Chairs: Sharon Theobald 765-714-4141
Lois Maickel 765-474-2855

Sharon Theobald is one of our PWC Golfers, and is also a co-chair of the Golf Interest Group.

When asked about the group Sharon shared with us some of the group's history:

"The Womens' Locker Room was constructed on the North Course (now Kampen) but previously there was no special facility for women golfers.

We have 8 to 10 members who play each Thursday at 8:30am and we hit those little white balls long and strong and short and sweet. The PWC also plays twice each season at the Lafayette Country Club - once mid-season with a luncheon and again for the end of season Luncheon and Awards.

We are fun group of Purdue Women who enjoy the fun of playing golf with each other.

Lois Maickel came to Purdue in 1977 and the following Spring, as I remember, we met at Sue Scholers' to get organized. We played our rounds on the "north" course. We were next to some Purdue farms as we would see cows a bit to the west of the fairway. The starter house where we paid our fee and played was that winged structure

As I remember our group was much larger than now. We must of had 25 to 30 members.

Season number 74 began in May! How's that for a long lasting Interest Group? Congratulations to the Golf Group and may you all have many more great seasons.

Garden Club...Afternoon Group. Evening Group, and then
Garden Gals –
71 Years of Growth!

Submitted by Eileen Fitzpatrick and Suzanne Collins

Still around after evolving Interest Group

The very earliest section of the garden club that we found in the PWC archives was in 1935-1936. It was listed under the umbrella of the home economics study group. Mrs. J. C. Allen was the chairman and there were 22 members. Average attendance was 19. Programs were presented by members as well as outside speakers like professors J.J. Davis and E.J. Kohl. Garden group dues were 35 cents per year.

By 1950 the garden club was no longer a section of the home economics group. Reading between the lines, we can assume this was an important change for the interest group to be recognized on its own as a group. There was an afternoon section and an evening section.

Topics for the early garden meetings were what could be expected in a garden group today. Topics for the year in the afternoon group included the following: Plot the Home Grounds, Grade and Build Your Lawn with Dr. William Daniel; Soils, Foundation Plantings, Selecting Background Shrubs and Trees, Dry Walls, Pools and Fences, Perennial Planning for Color Effects and the final month of May was left for "Garden Visiting".

The evening group topics were: Visiting a Chrysanthemum Exhibit, Making Flower Arrangements, Planting the Spring Garden, Orchids, Landscaping the New Home, Perennials for Continuous Bloom, English Gardens, Tour of Miss McMullans Gardens, and Garden Pests.

Over the years the garden clubs also visited the Purdue greenhouses, learned about house plants, visited private gardens, learned about the care of perennials, vines, shrubs, bulbs, and trees. In the 50's the groups had around 20 members regularly attending. The focus of the groups also expanded. During the Fall of 1952 the evening and afternoon groups joined forces and assisted in creating the floral decorations for 70 tables at the PWC fall luncheon.

The afternoon and evening sections were both active for many years. The afternoon garden club was active for 44 years (1934-1977). The evening garden club was active for 56 years (1949-2004). These are some of PWC's longest active groups. It is no wonder since flowers have long been an important creative outlet for women.

There were three years where no official garden club was registered at all with PWC. However, the Garden Gals came into existence in 2007 and is current to this day. It is one of the largest PWC clubs in terms of number of members with over 100 members on its email list. Each meeting roughly 20% of the total members attend, but numbers fluctuate from meeting to meeting.

Suzanne Collins was chair until last Spring, and the biggest change that Suzanne made in 2014 was that she decided that a garden club should meet all summer long, when it is best to view gardens. Jennifer Maguire and Marcy Miller are currently co-chairs of the group. Garden Gals meets March through November.

Most of the topics of the Garden Gals meetings are similar to what earlier garden groups had. They have included flower and container arranging, tips and care for house plants including African violets, orchids, succulents, and carnivorous plants. Road trips have included visits to an iris breeder's garden, a massive daylily garden, an award winning dahlia garden, two rain gardens, an orchard, the Master Gardeners' Display Gardens as well as many member's gardens. Natural beauty has also been appreciated on hikes through Clegg Gardens, Prophetstown State Park, and the Celery Bog. Speakers such as a landscape contractor, a Purdue Extension Specialist, a photographer, and an arborist have presented specialized information on garden related topics to make the experience more enjoyable and informed. Some meetings have included hands-on projects such as making holiday centerpieces, a succulent dish garden, a fairy garden, a hypertufa bowl for outside planting, and concrete stepping stone.

Flowers brighten up any room, decorate any table and are brought to all our luncheons. We cherish them and we learn about them so we can care for them. With over 100 members, this will be an Interest Group that will carry on for many more years.

Could They Make a Comeback Interest Groups?

Interest Groups That Came ... and Went!

From the archives
Submitted by
Eileen Fitzpatrick

It has often been said that the Interest Groups of the Purdue Women's Club are really the heart and soul of the group. Of that, there can be no doubt.

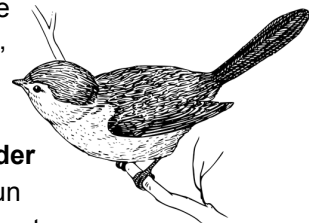

Like anything else, some ideas come and go. Some stay for a long time but eventually fade away. That is what happened to our Bird Study Group. It was very well liked for a long time, yet at some point people lost interest. It would not surprise me if it was revived. Antiques was another long standing club that ended. It could be that more people became minimalists, and that the everyday person quit having antiques in their homes. Whatever the reason, we no longer have an interest group that studies them, although it lasted 65 years.

Some clubs follow the times we live in and the trends our country or world is experiencing. Here is a list of those groups that had popularity but are no longer active. Interest Groups with a limited life span included: Singles, Badminton, Posture, Archery, Stamping and Memories, Brown Bag Lunch, Lap Swimmers, Crafts, French, Spanish, German, Discovering Art and Artists, Scrabble, Young Members Circle, Young Child Study Group, Adolescence Study Group, Bridge, Couples Bridge, Bird Study, Explore Indiana, The Film Group, Meditation Practice, Moms and Tots, Arm-Chair Travelers, Theatre Arts, Tennis, Hiking, Knit and Crochet, Increasing our Financial Confidence, Monthly Dinner Group, Inquisitive Taste, Inquisitive Cuisine (I.II.III.IV), Wine Samplers I and II, Around the World with Food and Wine, Creative Women Cooking Light, Vegetarian Potluck, Gourmet, Needlecraft I,II,III,IV,V.VI.VII, Grade School Child Study Group, Young Child Study Group, Travel Group

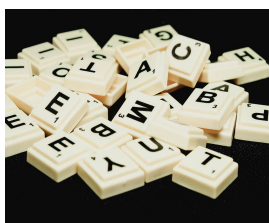

Some Interest Groups were specialized and lasted through efforts of it founder and lasted for as long as their creator aimed to keep them alive. They were fun and interesting and we welcomed them. Thank you to those creative people amongst us.

Short lived but interesting were the Interest Groups: Great Books, Money Talk, Hot Topics & Cool Wine, Walk and Talk, Games, games, games, On the Rise, Post work connections, Scrap Book Group, Happy Hollow Walkers, Breakfast Club, Ready to Read.

Now we look to the future. We can't predict what the next trend will be or what we might want to learn in future years. I do know whatever that something is, PWC will have a club for it. You can count on it! One prediction this author will make: we will still be bowling and golfing, doing needlework and gardening.

Thank You to our Interest Group Chairs and Co Chairs!

Some of our groups have changed hands or will change hands and we want to thank everyone past and present that have led these Interest Groups. May have volunteered for countless years. Thank You from all of us!
